Announcing the 2016 Festival Programme

Southwell's classical music festival will return during the 2016 August Bank Holiday weekend – from 25-29 August.

At this special free concert the Festival's Founder and Artistic Director Marcus Farnsworth will announce the 2016 programme after which refreshments will be served in the Crossing.

25–29 August 2016

2016 Festival Sponsor:
Mr Geoffrey C Bond OBE DL LLD FSA

Musical entertainment will include

Songs by Henry Purcell and Benjamin Britten

Bela Bartók's Romanian Dances

The performers

Alison Rose soprano

Maria Włoszczowska violin

Matt Glendening clarinet

2015 Nottingham Young Musician

James Cheung piano

Each of the soloists has a special connection with the Festival:

The brilliant young Polish violinist Maria Włoszczowska is one of the outstanding instrumentalists who enjoys being part of the Festival ensemble

As winner of the 2015 Nottingham Young Musician of the Year, clarinetist Matt Glendening will give our Saturday lunchtime recital

Alison Rose is one of the soloists in this year's Come and Sing and performs songs by two composers who will be featured at the 2016 Festival.

What the papers said in 2015:

“...a community event of an astoundingly high standard.”
