Be part of the noisiest event in the Southwell Music Festival!

Join our professional musicians to discover the wonderful world of percussion – whatever you can hit that makes a noise.

You'll have a chance to make your own instrument (or just bring a saucepan and wooden spoon) and take part alongside our professionals as you create and perform a special piece.

Perfect for people of all ages who benefit from a more relaxed performance environment, including those of all sensory and communicative abilities.

Audience members are free to make noise, move about, and come and go as they please.
